HORUS CONDITION REPORT®

The application for condition reports on smartphones and tablets

Write, photograph, annotate and sign... all in one tool

Horus provides a mobile tool enabling you to produce a complete report in front of the work, from A to Z. Automatic formatting helps save precious time.

Enhanced precision

Produce comprehensive reports, illustrated with up-to-date photographs of works, detail photographs and identification of alterations located using five drawing tools.

The tailored application for art and heritage professionals

Horus Condition Report was designed by art and heritage professionals, and offers a reporting form that adapts to all works. It also comes with a professional vocabulary developed by conservation professionals that you can supplement and adapt for total flexibility.

Legal guarantees

Condition reports are compliant with the relevant European standard, EN 16095. Reports are dated and signed at each stage.

The app works with no outside server and ensures total confidentiality.

Mobility

Thanks to the simplified input form, you can document the condition of collections at every stage of their transport.

There is also a tool for translation in 8 languages.

A documentation and management tool

Produce succinct or extensive reports for conservation treatments, studies, loans or exhibitions using a single tool.

The archiving and management of reports are facilitated by grouped management tools: creation of folders, grouped dispatch, .zip compression, import of notices (Horus format), sending of editable reports, import of data in .csv files, etc.

All this can be done without a WiFi network.

"Horus Condition Report is the solution to produce professional condition reports simply and quickly."
